Points To Discuss

- Don't know what we are doing, and have not researched in depth
- Have played and read and encountered a bunch of games
- This will be great as we'll be in the shoes of many of our patrons
 - Not much experience but a lot of will to create
 - The value of creating without rules or preconceived notions
 - Allowing experimentation in our lives
 - Playing with playing
- Going forward will know what to research as we consider where we struggled or what we want to know more about
